

Time travel

When: 22 billion

Where: Fisah, Earth

Where am I? This place is not where I live.

'Where am I?' I ask a man.

He speaks to me in a foreign language. I run to a shop. I ask another man but again he speaks to me in a bizarre language. The last thing I remember I was in an experiment. Dr Dasompi was testing time travel on me. I found myself here. Wait, what's happening? My eye sight's going blurry. I gasp. I remember now, it was.....

There's a sharp ringing in my ear. People are running around. Damn, now I'm back where I was in this strange country. Look, a sign! It's written in characters not letters and there's something different about the sign. It is floating. This place is crazy. There's a ringing in my ears again.

Now, back to the place I was. It looks like a lab. This is where it started. This is where I magically disappeared. I ask a man, 'Where am I?' He says I'm in a lab. Well, that was right. I run to the nearest exit. There's a sign that says 'Sydney'. Yes, I'm back in Sydney. Where's my house? Where's my home? I see a place that looks like a hotel. The sign is written with characters. I go in. I walk up to a man wearing a uniform made of chains. 'Can I book a room?' 'Where you from?' he asks in a strange accent.

'Sydney,' I answer. He looks amazed for some reason.

'Excuse me,' he says, and the man walks through the wall behind the counter.

What the hell!

I hear muttering from behind the wall, then a gunshot. I run like bronco out of the place. An alarm goes off. The fire department is coming. Flashings of thoughts are going through my head. This is mad. They've seen me. More gunshots are going but not at me. They're killing each other. What did I do?

There's this thing which is a huge tiger. It is chasing me. Even worse, it's gaining on me. What am I going to do? I jump off a cliff. This is the end of me. I'm about to go splat across the floor but instead I find myself in a room.

There's a kid, wearing pyjamas. He looks like me. He's sleeping. Somebody's talking outside the wall. I peer through a crack. It's the chain man from the hotel again but this time, there's two of him.

'I'm from Sydney,' I whisper.

A bullet hits the door. They both run through. I grab a chair, and throw it at the man on the left. It knocks him unconscious. The man on the right says, 'One Sydney makes no Sydney.' There's a huge flash of light. What the hell is happening?

I'm in the kid's room. Somebody's at the door. I peer through the door. It's the chain man again. I'm about to open the door. Phuh! The door explodes. I sprint to the kid's bed. I pick up the sleeping kid and run. I'm near the back door. Wait, where's the door. I guess I'm going through the wall. With the kid in my arms, I fall. Uh!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

I hear a voice saying, 'Two Sydney makes no Sydney.'

Dr Dasompi is right in front of me. The kid is gone. Dr Dasompi says, 'How did you survive all this trouble, because I didn't.' Dr Dasompi falls over and dies.

I'm back in my room. I feel smaller. There's a man in front of me. Wait, there's someone at the door.
