

"Water"

BRANDON SHEPHERD
EURONGILLY PUBLIC SCHOOL

Water on Monday,
causes icy rain to pour down and flood the drains all over town.

Water on Tuesday,
trees are wet wind gales bashed all the elm and ash trees to fall down with a crash.

Water on Wednesday,
was cold and formed hail and sleet, and everyone skated in the street.

Water on Thursday,
turned to frost, it was cold enough to bite my ears and freeze my tears.

Water on Friday,
no water it has cleared, it was good to see a glimpse of the calm sun which made my arm become un-numb.

Water on Saturday,
turned the sky grey, I walked around the lake hooray.

Water on Sunday,
it has finally stopped, not a tree stirs, I hide in my garden amongst the leaves, I slowly peek over my sleeves to see the rainbow over the trees.
