I Heard the Loudest Noise....

Boom Boom

It's twenty years after the water tower visit and Thomas still hasn't aged. He doesn't know why he hasn't aged, but he drinks the green murky water from the water tower every day as it tastes like his favourite drink, Coke.

Even though Thomas hasn't aged he has gotten FAT. Thomas is wider than a boulder, he looks like he's about to explode and makes a sound like, "Boom Boom" from Mario. Some people think Thomas is fat because he is slowly eating the water tower.

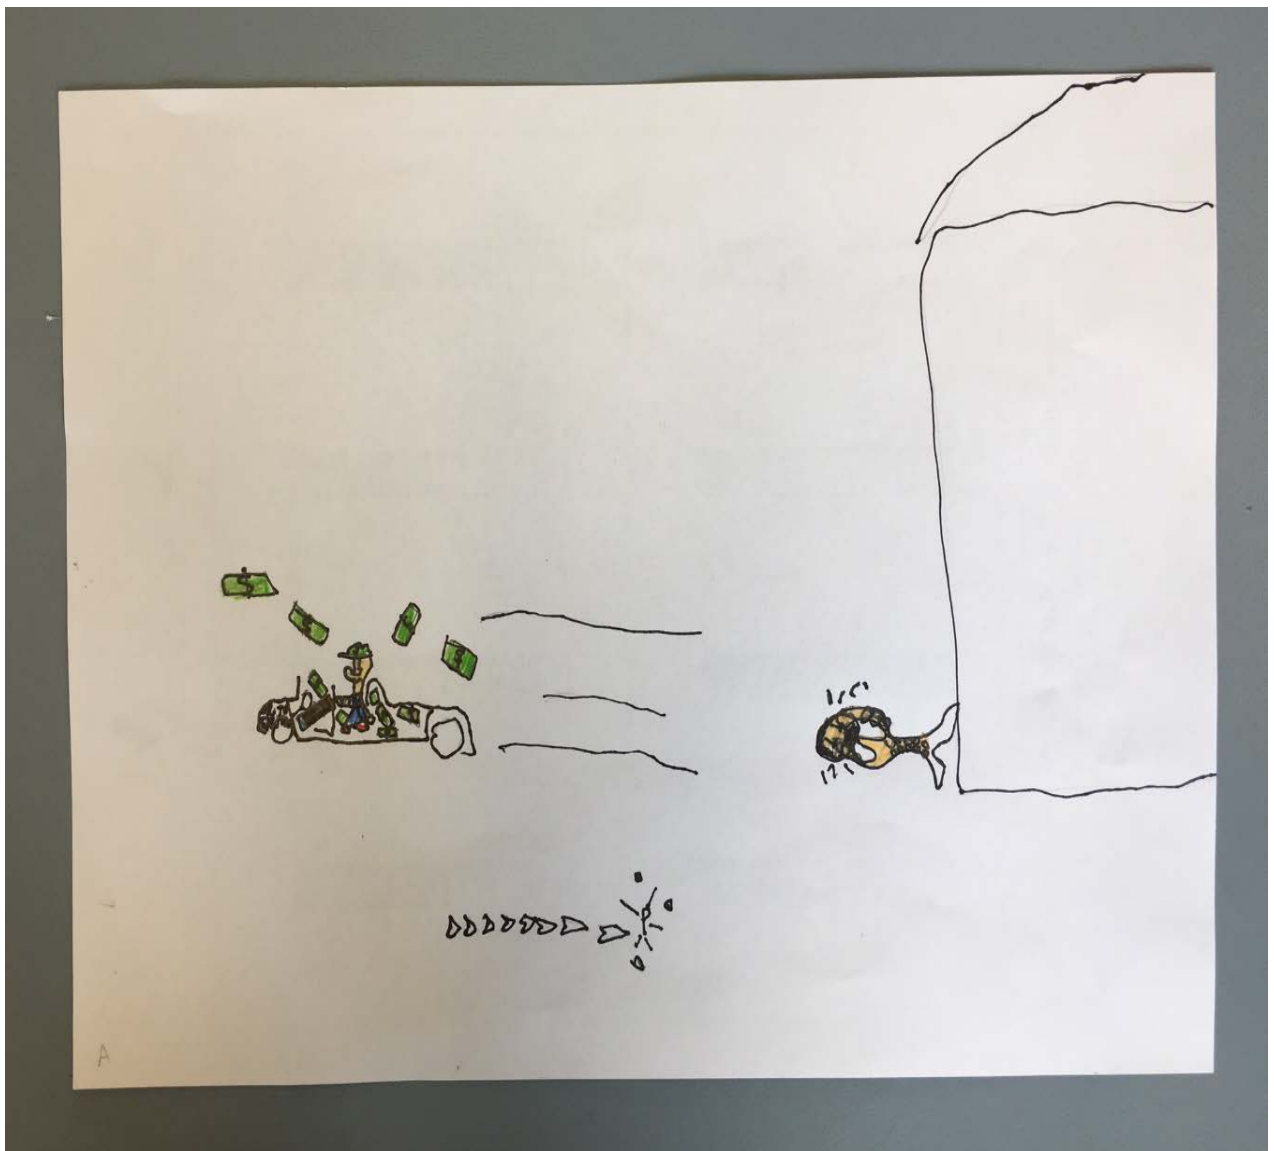

1 day later...

Thomas goes back and revisits the water tower because he is getting bigger but not older. He thinks the water tower holds the secret to why he isn't aging but getting bigger and bigger every day. He squeezes his fat belly inside the hatch of the water tower, slides down the ladder and at the bottom of the ladder, rather than a large pool of Coke, he only finds a tiny puddle of Coke left. He must have drunk more than he thought. He stretches his arms wide, gets down on his knees and puts his face in the puddle. There is a loud slurping sound and the puddle disappears. Thomas is confused... Hidden in the puddle was a button so he slaps the button with his chubby hand. Then suddenly, more super loud noises start and the water tower begins to change into a rocket ship. It starts to take off and Thomas is scared. It took 3 days for the rocket ship to travel and finally land on Pluto (and find a parking spot).

Thomas stays inside the rocket ship. He is hungry and is thinking about eating his own leg. He gets so hungry he needs to look for food. He grabs the ladder and uses it to smash a hole in the side of the rocket ship. As he comes out from the rocket ship, he sees dead alien bodies popping up, out of holes in the ground. Before he can do anything, a UFO appeared out of nowhere and zaps Thomas, shrinking him and sucking him up into the UFO. A while later, Thomas started to go back to his normal, fat size. Thomas was so fat and the UFO was so small that the UFO exploded as he grew and Thomas fell down to Earth.

While Thomas was falling he was losing weight and getting older. Thomas grew a beard and got a ten pack stomach. He landed in a Ferrari filled with lots of money. So Thomas bought a mansion.

Thomas then saw Luigi who stole all of Thomas's money, his Ferrari and drove away. All that was left was Thomas's mansion so he went inside, climbed into bed and cried all day long.

Luigi parked his new Ferrari and went inside his better and bigger mansion and ordered a mushroom pizza and did not pay Mario. You all KNOW that Mario should have paid Luigi yesterday.
