

The Crying Joey

One day I went for a walk in the bush behind my house and I met a joey that was sitting under a tree crying. I said "what's wrong?" He said "I'm lost." Then I heard the loudest noise. I followed the noise

and it was a kangaroo
calling for its baby I said "is this your baby?" She said
"yes." Then she said thank you, and she hopped away happily. Then I went home.
